FOREWORD

This book charts the Agency-wide failure and charge-off rate performance of SBA borrowers by Standard Industrial Classification code (SIC) and by franchise code. Actual experience to date is reported. A forecast of outstanding loans that will eventually fail is not included.

In order to provide perspective on the distribution of approvals, the most recent five years are shown individually and the most distant five years are combined. A summary follows showing total experience for the ten year period. A listing is included in this reference book only when five loans or more were disbursed during the ten year period from FY 1974 through FY 1984.

Definitions of failure rates and charge-off rates are consistent with the definitions used in our loan performance measurement system. A failure is defined as a loan that is now in liquidation or a loan that has been charged-off and is computed in number of cases. Charge-offs are defined as actual dollars charged-off stated as a percentage of total dollars disbursed.

Identity of the franchisors can be determined by use of the franchise code tables in Appendix 7, SOP 20 20. SIC codes are promulgated in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the Office of Management and Budget.

This reference book is intended as a guide for loan processing personnel in evaluating applications for SBA loans. Where Agency experience has been poor, stronger credit factors are indicated in order to warrant a loan approval.

The contents of this book were provided by the Central Office computer. It is possible that incorrect data may have been entered in the computer, which prevents us from assuring the reader of full accuracy, but we believe that there is sufficient reliability to warrant generalized use of the figures. Mindful of the aforementioned limitation, these statistics can be shared with our participants, when requested.
